

Top spots for MAGIC Market Week specials

August 11, 2014

One of the most fashionable events in Las Vegas, MAGIC Market Week, returns to the Mandalay Bay Events Center August 18-20. Major fashion buyers and players in the industry shop the convention with more than 3,500 exhibitors, or attend seminars covering topics such as tech, retailing, branding and trends that will help their businesses grow. But after the shopping is done, the tastemakers make their way to the Strip to flaunt their styles. A badge from a MAGIC convention is a lot like having a magic badge: it will score you some great deals, or let you into spots where not just anyone can get in. When a drink is in order, check out these hotspots that are not only favorites of Vegas visitors, but offer special perks for MAGIC attendees.

Trevi

It seems appropriate that one of the most fashion-heavy shopping spaces in Las Vegas has a MAGIC special. The Italian restaurant located at the The Forum Shops at Caesars offers attendees with a badge its specialty MAGICtini for $10. Made with blueberry vodka, Kinky liqueur and fresh kiwi, the fruity concoction is great to unwind after a long day of fashion-forward inspiration and networking.
